Freshmen Class Scores Hit With "Colorama"

Freshman Class Night featured Ann Scott and Eddie Broyles "giving their all" when they danced out their hearts to "The St. Louis Blues."

by Nancy Gardner

"When You Wish Upon A Star," the orchestra was playing preceding "Colorama", and this is exactly what the Freshman Class had been doing for the past two weeks!! And their wish came true! Congratulations from all to Madison's baby class for a job well done.

Dr. William Mengebier, class sponsor, announced that the Class of '58 was going to animate a physical law the colors of the spectrum would be dancing and singing before our eyes!

Sweet And Lovely

Dance and sing they did. Nancy and Celia Mengebier, assisted by Jackie Poe and Marianne Maust sang "Lavendar Blue," while Jeanne Foster led a chorus line of "lollipop cuties" in dance.

The color mood continued while Shirley Wright and Barbara Penn, led the chorus and dancers respectively into swaying the audience into "Deep Purple".

Quick as the flick of a light switch, the mood changed as purple lights played upon four couples led by Pris Shaefer, enacting "Sweet Violets".

Real "Hot"

A street light, a dice game, Ann Scott and Eddie Broyles, all combined to give a really "hot" version of "St. Louis Blues". In direct contrast were the "gowned and tuxedoed" figures waltzing to "Blue Danube."

No bagpipes were needed as Ida Jo Berger and Peggy Berger rendered music for Irish colleens in a line dance to "Wearing of the Green." Very dramatic was both the choral and choreographical technique on "Green Years," led by Nancy Cloud, Susie and Rosie Plentovitch.

A play of lights made the organ and piano duet by Nancy Rodgers and Mary McAltiger, "Sunrise Serenade" most effective.

Solo—So Pretty

September leaves in May provided a background for Nancy Wheatley singing, "September Song". Risa Frank and Charlene Grimm brought color magic back once more with "Scarlett Ribbons". "Red Sails in the Sunset" with Madison mermaids mending nets brought a glow to everyone.

Original lyrics to "April Showers" brought the entire cast on stage to a grand finale.

A colorful spring day, a colorful class and class night—all made a picturesque and vivid "Colorama".

May Day Theme To Be "Land Of Make Believe"

Men To Make Appearance In May Day For First Time In Celebration's History

by Ellen Turpin

Madison's campus will be transformed into a land of fantasy on May 7 as the annual pageantry of May Day is carried out. This year the May Court will be surrounded by the theme, "The Land of Make Believe."

Reigning as Queen over the day's festivities will be Gwen Clark McCormick of Arlington, who will be accompanied by the chosen maids, their escorts and attendants. Betty Myers, of Woodstock, has been chosen as Maid of Honor.

Maids And Escorts

Selected as maids of the court are: Jean Hogge, escorted by Tommy Bird, attended by Ann Harris and Donia Grove; Jane Warren, escorted by Dick Sloop, attended by June Holt and Judy Freeman; Suzanne Sublett, escorted by Joe Michaels, attended by Joyce Gwaltney and Joyce Munford; Lois Suter, escorted by Harry Rubush, attended by June Simmons and Joy Turner; Frances Alls, escorted by Jack Leffel, attended by Jean Mitchell and Nan Kiser; Liz Hill, escorted by Frank Mason, attended by Patty Davis and Janet Neff; Juanita Mowles, escorted by Roger Padgett, attended by Jean White and Connie Whitehead; Jane Wine, escorted by Dale Long, attended by Sue Hoffman and Peggy Phalen; Linda Dudley, escorted by Paul Long, attended by Betty Smith and Reggie Pearson; Norma Proctor, escorted by Jim Finnegan, attended by Joan Holst and Sylvia Payne; Lou Watson, escorted by Julian Bell, attended by Peggy Farmer and Juanita Wood; Meg Covey, escorted by Eldon Padgett, attended by Janice Booze and Mary Fred Turner.

Home Ec Students Give Clothing Show

It has been announced by the Home Economics Department that the annual fashion exhibition will be held on Thursday, May 19. Included in the plans for the affair is an indoor exhibit of all types of work done by students of the department, to be held in Maury 12 from 9:00 a.m. until 2:00 p.m.; and in the afternoon at 4:30 students and the children observed in the child development classes will model numerous garments made by the former. This part of the day's program will be held in front of Senior Hall, weather permitting; otherwise, it will be held in Senior reception rooms.

Maude Marshall and Mary Manhardt are responsible as coordinators of the planning and final completion of the schedule for the fashion exhibition. However, it is a part of the work of the advance clothing course to actually stage the event. Shirley Ann Humphries and Jo Ann Gordon represent the clothing construction courses, but additional responsibilities are divided among the class members: Edith Henson, Beverley Barden, Etta Mae Snyder, Pat Harrell, Nancy Brubaker, Joyce Bowling, and Mary Davis Kline.

"Through the Looking Glass" is the theme of the showing, and all students modeling garments in the exhibit will choose their accessories by the new "rule of fourteen". This

Queen's Entertainment

Acting as crown bearer will be Johnny Wells, and pages for the court will be Sue Foster Deter, Myrna Harris, Anna Taylor and Madeleine Moore.

The court will be received after the processional by the story-book people who will present the "Welcome Dance." Continuing the program will be the dance of "Alice in Wonderland", followed by a colorful spring-time dance of the "Waltz of the Flowers."

Taken next from story book pages will be the personalities of the long favorite "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs". "Pinochio" will then come to life in a dance before the eyes of the audience, and the gayness of the dances will continue with Walt Disney's "Cinderella". The Madison Glee Club will set the mood for the dance of the "Wizard of Oz" with the song "Somewhere Over the Rainbow".

Dancing continues with "Jack, Be Nimble" and is concluded with the traditional climatic "May Pole Dance".

Among the main events of the day's celebration will also be the annual May Day parade with participants of the city as well as the college entering floats and decorating to add to the pageantry.

Contest Sponsored To Select Nation's Top College Queen

Deadline date for receiving requests for entry blank forms in the third annual national College Queen Contest has been extended to midnight July 15, 1955, it was announced by Mayor George A. Smoch, II, honorary chairman of the contest committee. The national college queen grand finals will be held at Asbury Park Convention Hall over September 9-11, 1955. Free entry blank forms and complete contest information can be obtained by writing to: College Queen Director, Convention Hall, Asbury Park, N. J.

Undergraduate college girls, between the ages of 17 and 24 years, are eligible to enter the contest. The extension of the deadline date was made necessary due to the unexpected amount of requests for entry forms to date. Over six thousand college girls in every state in the nation have requested permission to enter the contest.

The purpose of the contest is to select and honor the nation's most outstanding college girl. Judgings will be based on scholastic attainments; extra-curricular accomplishments; beauty; personality and typical college girl attributes. Each entrant will compose an original essay on the subject, "What College Education Means to Me" as well as submitting a photograph of herself and filling out a questionnaire form pertaining to general topics.

Forty-eight state college queen finalists and one from the District of Columbia will compete in the national grand finals here at Convention Hall in September. Each will receive round trip transportation to and from Asbury Park to compete in the grand finals as guests of the city of Asbury Park, sponsors of the contest. There they will be assigned to leading beachfront hotels during the competition and will be under the supervision of the Asbury Park Womens University Club membership, who will serve as official hostesses for the contest. State finalists competing in the grand finals will appear on stage at Convention Hall in college sweaters, evening gowns, and bathing suits. A national board of judges will select the 1955 National College Queen winner and runners-up at the grand finals. The judges will represent education, beauty, fashion as well as the arts such as stage, screen and TV.

The national college queen winner will receive $5,000.00 in prizes including scholarships, a grand tour of Europe, wardrobes, network TV appearances, and other valuable utility prizes. Last call for entries before school closes!

Zeta Honored With Achievement Award

Members of Zeta Tau Alpha social fraternity at Madison College learned recently that their Gamma Kappa chapter had carried off two of the three coveted merit awards given annually at the province workshop.

The three awards for magazine salesmanship, standards, and achievement were announced at the meeting, April 22-24 in Farnville. The Madison group received two awards: Standards and Achievement.

The most outstanding award, for achievement, is given to the group which has made the greatest advances in membership, scholarship, and full participation in the fraternity program over a two year period from 1953 to 1955.

The May Day Court consisting of Queen Gwen Clark McCormick; her maid of honor, Miss Betty Myers; her maids and their attendants—who have been chosen for their beauty—will be featured in the annual May festivities tomorrow back campus at 3:30 p.m.

Misguided Missiles

Practically all of us look forward to Friday because to most of us it means that another weekend has arrived. The weekend is a time for pleasure and relaxation. There's that tennis game we had planned, a picnic with the family, and perhaps a golf game with our next door neighbor. It's the time for going to church, fixing things around the house, cleaning out the attic, and watching television.

The weekends are all of those things — except on the highways. In 1954, 13,980 persons were killed and 678,000 were injured in weekend accidents, according to figures compiled and released by The Travelers Insurance Companies. Thirty-nine per cent of the deaths and 35 per cent of the injuries were recorded on Saturdays and Sunday in 1954.

The most dangerous day of the week for driving is Saturday. One good reason is that more cars are traveling the highways on Saturdays than on any other day. There is another important feature which sets this day apart from the others. For too many people, Saturday night is a time when drinking and driving are combined.

No one knows how many traffic accidents are caused by drinking drivers, but everyone knows it is a major problem.

For example, walk into your traffic courts any day and you will find them crowded with persons who were involved in serious accidents as a result of drinking. Everyone needs to know that even one drink before driving is too many. We saw an advertisement the other day which read: "If You Drive—Don't Drink — If You Drink—Don't Drive." This sounds like very simple advice, but it makes a great deal of sense.

Who are the drivers? Each one of us knows the answer to that question. It is sincerely hoped that by continually reminding drivers of safe driving through newspaper messages, television, radio and literature that traffic accidents will be reduced in the coming years. It can be done. We are the drivers and it is up to us to see that it will be done!

Weekends should indeed be happy ones for everyone. Let's try to make it that way. Will YOU?

Shake A Hand

In the next few years, many of the presently enrolled students will be returning to Madison for Homecoming—just as the alumnae will return this Saturday. We may sneer at times, now, and say, "I'm never coming back to this place once I graduate!" However, approximately one-third of us will visit our Alma Mater after our commencement.

Let's move ahead a few years—

Here we are, alumnae returning for Homecoming and May Day. We're with our old classmates, at the old spots, but something is missing—the old atmosphere! There isn't a handful of students in sight anywhere. As alumnae, our complaint is that we could have met any other place than Madison and it would have had just as much meaning.

The latter is the feeling of many present alumnae on their reunions at Madison. They say that the college is like a shoe without a foot or a lock without a key because the dormitories are partially empty of students—and everywhere there is a lack of "everyday" activity.

Alumnae are anxious to see their Alma Mater in action so this weekend let's stay home and extend a hand of welcome to the ones who paved the way for us—our alumnae!

Club News

A. C. E.

At the regular meeting of the Association for Childhood Education held on Thursday, April 21, 1955, the following new officers were elected: president, Lynne Ramsey; vice-president, Patsy Jones; secretary, Shirlee Harrison; treasurer, Pat Cannon; reporter, Beverley Belt; and program co-chairmen, Barbara Cooper and Patsy Wheeler.

Following the elections, the members enjoyed a panel discussion on the topic "Problems of Beginning Teachers". Members of the panel were former Madison graduates, now in the teaching field. They were Mrs. Julian E. Bell (Mary Cobb), Mrs. Garland F. Fauver (Vivian Berry), Mrs. Robert L. Koontz (Mary Frances Will), and Mrs. Joe M. Brock (Cynthia White). The panel discussed various problems of a teacher's first year, giving interesting examples from their own experiences. A question and answer period followed the discussion.

The French Club

Recently initiated to the presidency of the French Club, Ginger Brown heads other newly elected officers who are: Helen Boyd, vice-president; Jean-Marie Justice, secretary; Harriet Hylton, treasurer; and Wilma Via, reporter.

The program for the meeting, prepared by Jean White, included three reports and a discussion on France's three major industries: fashions, wines, and perfume, examples of perfume and clothing being presented by various members of the club. Refreshments were served by two "French chefs", members of the club.

Curie Science Club

Curie Science Club had its regular meeting this month and held elections for next year. The new officers are: Marilyn Zirk, president; Mary Emswiler, vice-president; Martha Braden-burg, secretary; Joyce Rhea, treasurer; Betty Messersmith, sergeant-at-arms; Margaret Anderson, program chairman; and, Ginny Robinson, reporter.

On April 20, Dr. Cool and twenty-four members of the club toured the Merck Chemical Plant. After they arrived the group was divided into two small groups and were guided through the plant by Mr. Shorts and Mr. Nash.

Flaming Flicks --

"Strange Lady in Town," co-starring Dana Andrews and Greer Garson, comes to the Virginia this Saturday, May 7. The setting is old Sante Fe when the railroad was pushing its way into the west, and the color photography captures the authenticity of the period like few other pictures have.

Popular Andrews plays the outdoor role of a man who "didn't want Garson in town, but who'd kill the first man who tried to make her leave." Critics say that Andrews has found the role he does best, a story of violent action and tender romance in perfect balance as the plot unfolds.

Special credit should be given to Dimitri Tiomkin, who composed and conducted the musical score, as well as composing the little song sung by Frankie Lane in the picture, "Strange Lady in Town."

Coming to the State is "Man Without a Star," with Kirk Douglas who hides his past like the scars on his back and he carries fear in his holster; he waits to collect his share in the strangest bargain a man ever made with a woman, Jeanne Crain, a ruthless ranch owner.

Sparks fly as brawling, untamed Mr. Douglas clashes with beautiful but iron-willed Miss Crain. Special credit goes to her for breaking away from her "sweet girl" role. Claire Trevor as Idonee, stands out as the saloon-keeper, a "bad woman" with a heart of gold.

Ex Libris Club

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kraus were hosts for the last monthly meeting of the Ex Libris Club, held April 5. At this meeting the officers for the coming year were elected. They are: president: Barbara Overby; vice president: Ailene Zirkle; secretary: Carolyn Glass; and, treasurer: Helen Johnson. These officers will be installed Tuesday night, April 26.

Shootin' The Breeze

with Nat

Money, money, money . . . here at Madison campus and on campuses all over the country can be heard the popular cry—"no money." Don't you college women realize that this is America, the land of golden opportunity where everyone has mink-lined bathtubs, or is that taught only in graduate schools? Tell you what, girls! I have just received information concerning Vogue's famous annual Prix De Paris Contest—the first prize winner to be selected from senior college women throughout the United States will receive $1,000 cash or an all-expenses-paid two week trip to Paris, flying both ways. For additional "info" and the address for enrollment blanks check the Breeze bulletin board in Logan 9!!

Hope everyone has rushed straight to the book store to purchase your copy of Freshman Pen! You know, it's the first student literary magazine ever published in Madison's history. We take off our hats to Miss Clara Childs, whose "baby" turned out so beautifully, and sincerely believe that now the need of a student magazine has been recognized and its continuation will be realized.

Lieutenant Commander Smith, better known to us as Dr. Glenn Curtiss Smith, will coordinate his fifth Aviation Ordinance Seminar for Naval Officers of NAS Grosse De during the first three weeks in June.

The following girls have been willing to share with "us old maids" the names of "their wonderful men"; Sue Frisbie, who now is engaged to Robert Melton, serving with the Marines in Hawaii; Barbara Bourne, who accepted a diamond from John McDowell, student at V.M.I.; and Judy Johnson, whose sweaters are sagging with Roland Ost's jewelry—Roland is enrolled at the University of Virginia. I've saved the best for last—all you who don't have efficient "contacts" will be happy to know that Sue Carol Foster was married to Jimmy Deter, Harrisonburg, at her home in Arlington following the Apple Blossom festivities on Saturday of last week.

At this time I'd like to apologize to our help in the laundry. It seems that "Laundry Quandry," which was intended to amuse, was taken as a serious offense by our laundry workers. — All students be sure to check in the laundry for unmarked articles, which have not been returned to you.

In closing, I want you all to know that Faye Nance did the splendid write-up of the Dinglelines for us. It was an oversight on our part that her story was not by-lined.

Glee Club Reveals Their Appreciation For Florida Trip

Dear Editor:

Having recently returned from our busy, yet very enjoyable trip to Florida, the Madison College Glee Club wishes to express thanks to all those who made the trip possible. We realize that without the whole-hearted efforts of President Miller, who secured a gift from the college, as well as the cooperation of Dean Warren, Dean Wilkins, Dean Garber and Mr. Gibbons, the trip would have been impossible. Further thanks are due to alumnae, Harrisonburg business concerns, and friends of the college who have generously aided us, and to members of the faculty who are being most understanding as we endeavor this week to make up our work. To Miss Raine and her staff who allowed us to have an early dinner on the day

Alumni Secretary Greets Old Grads

To all of our returning Alumni and May Day visitors, we extend our warmest greetings. It's fine to have so many of our Madison family united again under the house roof! May each moment be filled with happy memories, and experiences. May each one of you find during these days here on our beautiful campus new strength for the day with courage and hope for the future and a larger vision of service.

Dean Warren Gives Welcome To Alumni

Dear Alumni:

It is a genuine joy to welcome you to the homecoming exercises of your Alma Mater. We count our alumni among our most important assets and consider it a privilege as well as a pleasure to have you visit with us.

It is our hope that you will participate in all of the activities which have been arranged in connection with homecoming and that your stay on the campus of your College will indeed be a happy one.

Sincerely yours,
Percy H. Warren, Dean

Pennsylvania Band To Provide Music At May Day Dance

Backdrops and ceiling of pastel colors will provide a springlike atmosphere for dancers at the annual May Day dance which will be held from 9 p.m. until 12 p.m., May 7 in Reed Gymnasium.

Les Michener and his orchestra from Gettysburg, Pa., will furnish the music. This twelve-piece band is well known throughout that area, as they have performed for numerous local and college dances. The figure will be at ten o'clock and will be led by the queen of the May Day festivities, Gwen Clark McCormick, escorted by her husband, PFC Gerald McCormick. Second in the figure will be the Maid of Honor, Betty Myers and her escort will be Robert Leake. The members of the figure will form a maypole in keeping with the spirit of the day. Bids will be $3.50 per couple.

Refreshments will be served in Reed at intermission and for the May Court in Alumnae. All members of the faculty are cordially invited.

Miller Greets Alumni

Each year at this time, the members of the administrative staff and faculty of Madison College look forward to the renewal of friendships with former students and also welcome the opportunity of meeting or renewing acquaintanceships with the parents and close relatives of students who come to our campus for the May Day activities.

As President of Madison College, and on behalf of the administrative staff, faculty, and students, it gives me genuine pleasure to extend a warm welcome and greetings to the alumni, the parents and other relatives of our students, and any other visitors who may be here for the Homecoming and May Day programs this year. It is a genuine privilege to have you at Madison for this occasion.

Let me assure all of you — alumni, parents, and other visitors — that it is our desire that your stay here will be a happy occasion and, if there is anything that can be done for your comfort or pleasure while at Madison, we shall be only too glad for you to call upon us.

With cordial good wishes, I am
Sincerely yours,
G. Tyler Miller, President

Northern Coed: "Men are all alike."

Southern Belle Roommate: "Men are all Ah like too."

Six Classes Hold Reunions This Weekend

This is re-union year for the classes of 1915, 1930, 1940, 1945, 1950, and 1954! Special luncheon tables will be set up for these classes.

The class of 1930, under the leadership of Mary Brown Allgood, class agent, hopes to have twenty-five people including Dr. Wayland and Mrs. Johnston, retired faculty members, for their special dinner at the Belle Meade Motel on Saturday evening. One member of the class, Phyllis Palmer Morse, now living in Hawaii, is literally "saying it with orchids".

She finds it impossible to be here but wants to have a part in her class reunion. So, she is flying over about 100 orchids to help add color to the celebration. Hence on this, the 25th anniversary of their graduation, all of the 1930 "alums" will be stepping out with orchids. Congratulations to them.

Thus far, sixty-three of the guests have made plans to spend the weekend on campus. However, many other alumni are expected to come for the Saturday meetings.

Homecomers Hailed By Dean Of Women

Homecoming '55 finds Madison ready to welcome you alumni to your alma mater. There are physical changes which will delight you; there are signs of growth, which will surprise you; there is, however, an unchanging welcome here for those of you who return. It is the same as it has been in previous years. We'll be glad to see all of you.

It will give me especial pleasure to welcome the graduates of '54 and those of earlier years whom I have met at alumni meetings and at other places.

The campus will be in a festive mood. Come and join in the fun!
Ruth Jones Wilkins
Dean of Women

Students Pay Tribute To Samuel P. Duke

As a working memorial to Dr. Samuel Page Duke, late President Emeritus of Madison College, the senior class is establishing a scholarship fund.

The first presentation will be made by the senior class to a junior on moving up day, May 25. The plan is for each year the senior class to present the $100 scholarship to a deserving junior. Scholastic average, need, leadership and character will be the bases for the decision.

It is the desire of the senior class that other clubs also contribute to the fund. The name of these organizations will appear on the plaque to be presented to Mrs. Duke. If any money from contributions is not used it will be put into a fund to be used by succeeding senior classes which without it will not be able to fulfill the pledge.

We know there will be a lot of difference from this "still-life", both in dress and technique, when the queen and her court perform the figure of the May pole during intermission at the dance tomorrow night.

Skip's Skoop

by Skip Michael

Attention civilization!! Here comes a celebration That provides a lot of fun for one and all.

May Day is coming 'round But before the queen is crowned Let's look in on the last rehearsal call. "Dress rehearsal," read the sign, "All be there. We'll quit at nine." And the Freshman, Sophomores, Juniors, Seniors came.

But alas the night was long. Not a group could sing a song. And the chairman shouted vicious, nasty names.

All the groups just made a fuss It would have made anyone cuss Just to see the way they acted on the stage.

Then the next group did their skit. "Ye Gods! Who wrote that lousy script?"

Cried the chairman. Then she tore up every page.

Then the next group had their turn But seems they had a lot to learn Because they couldn't get a single cue on time.

The third group ambled from the wings Forgot their dances—couldn't sing. Their antics could not be described in rhyme.

"We've got to do this just once more," Said the chairman from the floor. "And for goodness sake let's get it done tonight."

Seniors labored—Juniors worked Not a soph or freshman shirked And at last the groups did their skits just right.

Every song was sung most fine; And every dance was just divine; Those performances deserved a prize or more.

Each was sure their skit was best How the chairman took a rest! "The Land of Make Believe" was almost o'er.

Yep, the big event is almost here. For years now rapid changes have been made in the style of May Day. This year the men students have a part in the program for the first time. May Day has changed from year to year but the tradition remains. May Day 1955 will be crowned with success again this year as it has enjoyed in past years. It's going to be a wonderful day. Y'all have fun at the program, dance, etc. See you next week . . . . .

Assembly Program Features Orchestra

Wednesday assembly on May 4 honored the Freshman Class. Prior to the program, the president of the class, Betty Johnson, introduced Faye Nance, the editor-in-chief, who presented to President Miller the first edition of the class magazine, Freshman Pen. It is the hope of the class to start a new tradition.

Under the direction of Mr. Clifford Marshall, the Madison College Orchestra played selections from Niccoli's "The Merry Wives of Windsor"; Rose's "Holiday for Strings"; and Bizet's "Carmen".

Nancy Wheatley and Skip Michael rendered vocal numbers from "The Student Prince".

Reservations Available For Post Office Boxes

Mr. Ralston has announced that it is necessary for all students who are planning to return for the 1955-56 term to reserve their post office boxes at the post office window as soon as it is possible. Payment for these boxes will be collected at the beginning of the term.

State Scholarships Awarded Thirteen Virginia Students

The following Virginia students have been awarded a State Student Loan Fund Scholarship for study at Madison College for the 1955-56 session: Jacquelyn Zehring, Mount Jackson, $350; Shirley Ann Stanley, Waynesboro, $300; Phyllis Edwards, Sampsons Wharf, $350; Elaine C. Walker, Farmville, $300; Barbara Ikenberry, Timberville, $300; Judith Ann Wise, Petersburg, $300; Doris F. Bigger, Danville, $300; Mae Frances Smith, Axton, $300; Margaret E. Layman, Blacksburg, $300; Harriet C. Harnsberger, Charlottesville, $350; Elizabeth Humphries, Fairfax, $300; Christine Hogge, Gloucester, $300; Mabel A. Caldwell, Pembroke, $300.

Announcement of scholarship recipients was made this week by W. J. DeLong, Director of Student Personnel Services and Chairman of the Committee on Admissions and Scholarships.

State Student Loan Fund Scholarships are granted on the basis of scholastic achievement and favorable recommendation of the candidate. They are renewed for a second year if the academic record of the holder is satisfactory.

Under Madison's liberal scholarship program approximately one-third of all students hold work, loan fund, or state teachers' scholarships and grants-in-aid.

Academy Of Science Holds Meeting Here

Madison College will be host for the meetings of Virginia Academy of Science, to be held here May 11-13. Dr. William L. Mengebier has announced that the Department of Biology at Madison will present five papers at these meetings. Three of the papers to be presented are authored or co-authored by students of Madison. Two others are to be presented by two faculty members of Madison.

Dr. Mengebier, Miss Antonina Skapsars, and Mr. Oliver Henderson will present their studies on an operation performed on a golden hamster. Their experiment was to determine if the liver of a golden hamster would grow back to its original weight if a portion were cut off, and how much time this growth would require.

Miss Margaret S. Anderson is to present a study on the racial influence on tuberculosis. The main purposes of her study are to show the rate of TB mortality in Virginia by color in a ten year period, the distribution of cases by color by county, the number of new cases in Virginia over the ten year period, the rate of decrease in deaths by color in Virginia, the rate of decrease in newly reported cases, and some factors that determine the conditions for health among any people.

Dr. A. M. Showalter will report his findings on his experiments with pumpkins of the Golden Cushaw variety. Having derived ten varieties, Dr. Showalter plans to include in his discussion the genes which have influenced the shapes of the pumpkins.

Dr. M. C. Shawver will present his studies on the supply of high school teachers in Virginia. His main point is the result of questionnaires which have been sent to twenty colleges and universities in Virginia. Dr. Shawver will compare his findings with national trends and especially with the supply of science teachers in North Carolina, West Virginia, and Maryland.

Dr. Showalter and Mr. Harry Ruebush will present a paper titled "Water Content of Vertebrate Embryos and Larvae".

Play Day To Be Held

Ten students from each of the high schools of Broadway, Bridgewater, Harrisonburg, and Montevideo will participate in a play day for high school students to be held here at Madison on May 14. Softball, tennis, badminton, swimming, and volleyball are those activities which will be included in the day's fun.

Registration will begin at 12:45, and following the sports there will be a social in Johnston lab.

It Was Easy, Dad . . .

"My son, now that you are home from college, tell me of all the wonderful things you have learned. I want to hear all about it, because I never had a chance to get a college education."

"My father, I learned nothing."

"What is this, son? You learned nothing. How can that be? You were there four years. You must have learned something."

"Well, I'll tell you how it was, dad. When I did make it to classes, I slept. I never bought a textbook, much less read one. In fact, I never read anything that had anything to do with college or courses. I never talked to anybody about anything; I just had a good time."

"But, son, you've got a degree. How did you manage that without learning anything?"

"It was easy, dad. I had a system. You see, I only scheduled courses giving objective tests."

"What's that, son?"

"Well, in objective tests, all you got to do is mark a 'T' or an 'F' in a blank, or circle a letter or number in what they call a multiple-choice question, or put a letter by a number in a matching question. That's all there is to it."

"But, son, you've got to know something to put the letters and numbers in the right place."

"No, dad, if you schedule the right courses, know how to make plus and minus marks, how to put a number or letter in a blank, and if you're really lucky, you can get a college degree."

"Then the degree doesn't mean much, does it, son?"

"No, sir, I guess it doesn't."

(From the Daily Reveille, Louisiana State university).

Art Historian Stites Addresses Students

Dr. Raymond S. Stites, scholar, writer, and practitioner in art and art history, will be the distinguished guest of the College and speaker at Wednesday Assembly, May 11.

Dr. Stites is at present curator in charge of education work of the National Gallery of Art in Washington. His long and varied career as a teacher of art history, writer on many phases of art, and his art work in many areas has well prepared him for his present position.

Born in Posaic, New Jersey, Dr. Stites received his Ph.D. at Brown University in biology and anthropology. His interests turned to art history and philosophy, in which he pursued further studies at Brown and at the University of Vienna, where he received his Ph.D. in 1927.

After extensive travel in Europe, Dr. Stites returned to this country to teach at the University of Iowa and later at the University of Colorado. He became professor of Arts and Aesthetics at Antioch College in 1930, a position which he held until 1947.

During the summer months Dr. Stites found time from his teaching schedule to hold visiting professorships at Cornell, University of Redlands, and University of New Mexico. Some of his art work has included reconstructions of Indian Art among the cliff dwellers, and pottery and mural projects among the Cherokees.

He is the author of The Arts and Man, published by McGraw Hill Book Co. in 1940, and numerous articles and studies for the College Art Bulletin, College Art Journal, American Magazine of Art, Parnassus, New Humanist, Commonwealth, the Friend's Intelligence, American Journal of Aesthetics, and others. Soon to be published are two works on Leonardo da Vinci by Dr. Stites. He also has in preparation a history of Art.

Dr. Stites will speak in general on Art and Art History in his Wednesday address. His illustrated lectures have become well known and are greatly widening the benefits of the National Gallery and furthering a deeper appreciation of Art.

A WHOLE CABOODLE OF LUCKY DROODLES !

A WONDERFUL SLANT on smoking! You'll find it in the Droodle above, titled: Tourist enjoying better-tasting Lucky Strike while leaning against tower of Pisa. If your own inclination is toward better taste, join the many college smokers who prefer Luckies. From any angle, Luckies taste better. They taste better, first of all, because Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' light, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better. Little wonder that Luckies tower above all other brands in college popularity!

Sport Specs

By 'Jan'

Recreation and entertainment will be on the bill for the Madison faculty, Wednesday, May 11 at 7:30. The senior physical education majors are playing hostesses to the entire faculty in a program of folk dances, square dances, relays and other games. To set the mood for the gala occasion comic figures of major people in the world of sports will be pinned to each person's back upon arrival and it is up to him to figure out who he is representing by asking questions. Not only fun, entertainment and refreshments be found in Ashby, but Johnston basement will feature exhibits of each phase of the program of physical education here at Madison.

Want a start on learning to dance? All beginners interested in a one night session of social dance lessons to be taught by the advanced social dance class meet in Ashby gym Thursday, May 12 at 8:30 p.m. The girls who will teach these lessons have been taking an advanced social dance class in the hopes that through better trained leaders we may be able to have a more effective intramural social dance program next year. Come on out and give them a chance to help you learn to dance.

Ratings will be given in softball on May 13, 17, and 19. If you would like to try for your rating at this time, please contact Miss Hartman as soon as possible.

Mary Ellen Choate, Gail Woodson, Eleanor Laing and Eleanor Wayne will represent the intramural archery group in a tournament at Westhampton College next Wednesday, May 11. Good luck . . . we hope those arrows fly straight to their mark.

Here's how the teams stand in intramural softball: Giants, two wins, no losses; Yankees, one win, no losses; Senators, no wins, one loss; and Indians, two losses, no wins. The present schedule of games is being re-worked to compensate for the time lost to rain and May Day practices, so be sure and check your dorm bulletin board for the changes.

of our departure and come to dinner late on the day of our return, we express our gratitude. Contributions and interest shown by Sigma Phi Lambda, the Kappa Delta Pi society, and Zeta Tau Alpha, Pi Kappa Sigma, Alpha Sigma Alpha, and Sigma Sigma Sigma sororities have been greatly appreciated.

In all of our programs, including radio and television appearances, the entire Glee Club remembered their distinct responsibility to our college. We are confident that our conduct musically and at all times during our trip reflected credit on Madison. We feel the student body will be proud, as are we, of the comment on our program at the National Federation of Music Club's Convention by the music critic for the Miami Daily News; "... the 60-voice Madison College Glee Club from Harrisonburg, Va., was heard in a musical interlude that was magnificent in tone, quality, intonation, and impressiveness of delivery."
